

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THE want which is universally felt by Travellers and others, of correct and ready Tables, corresponding with the present Course of Exchange between England and France, has induced the Compiler to submit the following for their use and approbation. They embrace the most minute variation in the Course of Exchange, on any sum from One Hundred Thousand francs, to one centime. From the principle upon which the computations have been made (viz. the Chain Rule and Decimals) and the pains taken in checking them, he feels confident that they will be found free from error.

To persons who have occasional transactions with France or Genoa, and are unaccustomed to Exchange Calculations, these Tables will be particularly useful; and to those who are fully conversant with Exchanges, they will serve as a check.

The Tables for Amsterdam, Hamburg, and other places, although they are on a compressed scale, will be found extremely useful in facilitating the reduction of British sterling into the currency of those countries.

The Table of Monies has already gone through several editions, and has met with a most favorable reception; it will be found particularly useful to persons travelling on the Continent, and will serve as a check upon the impositions so frequently practised upon them.

The particulars respecting Steam Packets will be useful to persons going to, or returning from the Continent.

The Chain Rule Equations will be found of great utility, by simplifying and shortening the operation in Exchange calculations.

To those gentlemen who have kindly furnished the Author with information, he respectfully tenders his grateful acknowledgments; and will feel obliged by any further communication, by which he may be enabled to improve the work in the next edition.

A more extended set of Tables for Hamburg, Amsterdam, and the United States of America, is in preparation; for which, subscriptions will be received by the Publishers.

London, February, 1836.

By this Table, the value of the money of one country may be readily found in the currency of any other, by a simple Equation or Rule of Three statement; thus, if it be required to find the value of 1 milrea of Lisbon, in the currency of Berlin? By the Table is shewn, that 1 milrea is equal to 6*f.* 11 c., or 611 cents; and 30 silver groschen are equal to 3*f.* 66 c., or 366 cents; then,

As 366 : 30 :: 611 : 50; or by Chain Rule, thus—

Term of demand 611 cents

366 cents = 30 groschen

Reduced, gives 50.08 groschen.

It is to be observed, that the value of the monies given in the above and three subsequent Tables is the true equivalent value, which is increased or lessened by the fluctuations in the Exchange. With those countries that give the fixed price, say Cadiz, Lisbon, Leghorn, &c. as the rate of Exchange advances, the value of their money is enhanced; while, on the contrary, with those countries that give the variable price, say Amsterdam, Paris, &c., the value of their money is lessened as the rate of Exchange advances.

N. B. Since the third edition of this Table was printed on the sheet, some trifling inaccuracies have been pointed out, which are here corrected.

To find the distance between any two places.—Seek the given places in the Table, draw the finger along the line from that place which stands undermost, until it comes perpendicular to the other given place; the number found in the angle thus formed, will give the distance in English miles:—thus, from London to Rome is found in the line even with Rome, in the column headed London; say 873 miles.

A Steam Packet sails every eight or ten days, between Lubeck and St. Petersburg; from Lubeck to Copenhagen, every Tuesday; and from Copenhagen to Lubeck, every Monday; there is also a regular Steam communication to Stockholm; and likewise from Hull to Havre.

Information for Foreigners.—All Foreigners quitting this country, must go through the required formalities at the port of embarkation; those who embark at the port of London, must present themselves, for this purpose, the day previous to their departure (notwithstanding they may have been to the Alien Office in Westminster) to Mr. Fabian, Alien Office in the Custom-house, who will furnish them with the papers which are requisite, without which they will not be allowed to embark.

The Mediterranean Packet leaves Falmouth about the 3rd; Gibraltar about the 10th; Malta about the 16th; Corfu, on her return, about the 3rd; Malta about the 6th; Gibraltar about the 13th of every month.

Passports for FRANCE, may be procured in London from the Passport Office, 6, Poland-street, Oxford-street; or Durant St. Andre, Consul General, 4, Token-house-yard; and also of Mr. Black, Ship-street, Brighton. ROTTERDAM, from J. W. May, Esq. Consul, 123, Fenchurch-street. BELGIUM—at the Ambassador's, 17, Fitzroy-square; or from the Consul, H. Castellain, Esq. 3, Copthall-court, Throgmorton-street; or from Mr. Fauche, Consul at Ostend. HAMBURGH—from the Hanseatic Consul, 76, Cornhill. PRUSSIA—H. B. Hebel, Esq. 106, Fenchurch-street; or by applying to Mr. John Schmidt, Agent for Aliens, Ball-court, Cornhill. Passports for France may be obtained at Dover, Portsmouth, and Southampton.

Avis aux Etrangers.—Tous les Etrangers, qui quittent ce Royaume étant tenus par l'Alien Acte de faire les Déclarations requises au Port ou ils s'embarquent, ceux qui partent du Port de Londres, s'adresseront pour cet effet, le jour avant leur départ (non obstant qu'ils se soient présentés à l'Alien Office en Westminster) à M. Fabian, à l'Alien Office à la Douane, qui leur donnera les Papiers nécessaires, sans lesquels on ne leur permettra pas de s'embarquer.

To Travellers on the Continent.—Passports for France may be had, free of expense, at the Passport Office in Poland-street, by sending the name and address, between the hours of twelve and three on the previous day; or they may be had on the same day of the Consul General, Token-house-yard, on payment of a fee of ten shillings. A whole family may be included in the same passport, but it is frequently productive of inconvenience to the parties. On leaving France, application must be made to the Prefecture of Police, to get the passport indorsed; in so doing, be careful to indorse it for the port of embarkation, or the frontier town, if proceeding by land; for if it be indorsed for England, or any other country, it must be signed by the Chef de Bureau des Etrangers, for which is demanded a fee of ten francs. The passport being indorsed, must then be left at the British Ambassador's, for his inspection and signature, if the party is residing in Paris, or with the British Consul, if residing in a provincial town. The above information does not apply to natives of France, who must have their passports indorsed for the country they are going to.

over leaf.*

In the following equations the Course of Exchanges is assumed; in the operation, they must be made to correspond with advices from abroad, or with the Course of the day.

The equations on the left hand side of the page are for reducing sterling into the currency of foreign countries, and those on the right hand for reducing foreign currency into sterling; and will serve as exercises for those who are not versed in Exchange calculations.

N. B. In these and all equations formed on the principle of the Chain Rule, it should be observed, that the terms in the left hand column must be of the same denomination as the terms on the right hand of the line above.

Chain Rule.

By the Chain Rule may be performed in one stating, that which will require several statings by the Rule of Three. It is so termed, from its principle of linking together certain quantities, so as to form a Chain of Equivalents, called an Equation, which is performed thus:—

Rule for working Exchange calculations by Equations.

Form an equation as in the opposite page, and place the given sum in the first line of the right hand column; the fraction of a pound, being first reduced into decimals, and annexed; should there be no shillings or pence in the given sum, annex three ciphers instead; then multiply the terms in the right hand column into each other for a dividend, and those in the left hand column in the same manner, for a divisor; the quotient will be the answer in the same denomination as the last term of the equation.

General Rule to shorten the above operation.

If the same numbers should be found on both sides of the equation, they may be struck out.

If one of the terms on either side of the equation will divide one of the terms on the opposite side without leaving a remainder, they may be struck out, and the quotient put in the place of the greater number.

If any two terms (being on opposite sides of the equation) can be divided by any number without leaving a remainder, they may be struck out, and their quotients put in their place.

Example.

Required the amount in B^{co}. marks of Hamburg, of £323. 10s. 6d. stg.
Exchange B. M. 13 12s. or 220s, per £ sterling.

Term of demand	323,525 £.stg.	Thus	323,525
£1. stg	= *220 schill.	Multiplied by	220
*16 schill.	= 1 B ^{co} . mark.	Divided by 16	71175,500
	* 16 ÷ 2 = 8.		B. M. 4448,469
	220 ÷ 2 = 110.	Schillings in a B ^{co} . mark.....	16
8 may therefore be put instead of 16, and 110 instead of 220.			s. 7,504

To find the Interest on any sum for any number of days.

RULE.—Multiply the pounds by the days, and by double the rate, which divide by 73000, the quotient will be £ sterling, (a)
